Foreword

Councillor Emma Daniel

Violence against women and girls, domestic abuse and sexual violence (VAWG, DA and SV) is a national and local priority, a criminal justice issue, and a violation of human rights that impacts individuals and families and harms communities, societies and economies.

VAWG, DA and SV is a national priority, with the current (2024) Government stating:

“This initiative is part of an ambitious, unprecedented mission to reduce such violence by 50% (VAWG) within the next decade.”

However, the devastating impacts of VAWG, DA and SV are felt most acutely at the local level, within homes, workplaces, public spaces, and communities. We cannot, and will not, tolerate violence in any form.

There are four priorities laid out in this Strategy:

- Stronger coordinated community response
 - Prioritising prevention
 - Support for survivors
- and
- Building an accountable community and changing perpetrator behaviour.

These have been developed using data, intelligence and research, alongside consultation with stakeholders and, critically, with feedback from victims/survivors.

We cannot achieve these ambitious goals alone. This strategy calls for collaboration between statutory services, the community and voluntary sectors, local businesses, and residents. Together, we will build a city where VAWG, DA and SV is not tolerated.

Brighton & Hove is a city that values inclusion, equality, and safety. By working together to implement this strategy, we can ensure that these values are extended to every resident, creating a future where violence is prevented, survivors are supported, and perpetrators are held accountable.

Together, we can create a safer, more supportive Brighton & Hove, where everyone can live free from violence and fear.

Executive Summary:

Brighton & Hove City Council is dedicated to preventing and tackling Violence against Women and Girls (VAWG), Domestic Abuse (DA) and Sexual Violence (SV) through a comprehensive partnership led strategy. This strategy emphasises the importance of collaboration across our community to support those affected and hold perpetrators accountable.

Vision and Mission:

Our Vision

is to create a safe and supportive environment for all individuals, free from violence and abuse.

Key Objectives:

- 1) Strengthened coordinated community response
- 2) Prioritising prevention
- 3) Supporting survivors
- 4) Building an accountable community and changing perpetrator behaviour

These four themes reflect our approach to preventing and tackling VAWG, DA and SV.

Our Mission is to implement a coordinated and effective response to VAWG, DA and SV, ensuring the safety and well-being of survivors while holding perpetrators accountable.

Strategic Components

- Coordinated Community Response (CCR) Model:

This model serves as the framework for reviewing our partnerships and ensuring a unified approach to addressing VAWG, DA and SV (see page 21 to 23).

- Multi-Agency Risk Assessment Conference (MARAC):

An actionable meeting that brings together key agencies to coordinate responses for high-risk individuals, ensuring comprehensive safety plans and support.

- VAWG, DA and SV Oversight Board:

Another actionable meeting that oversees the delivery of the action plan, monitors progress and addresses emerging challenges. The Board ensures alignment with strategic goals and effective implementation of the strategy.

Stakeholders and Partnerships

This strategy involves collaboration with local organisations, networks, and residents. Key stakeholders include the police, health services, housing, social care, and specialist VAWG, DA and SV services. By working together, we aim to provide a robust and coordinated response to violence and abuse.

Action Plan:

The strategy will be implemented through a series of targeted actions and initiatives.

Task and Finish Groups will address specific areas such as community coordination, prevention, survivor support, and perpetrator behaviour change.

Monitoring and Evaluation

The newly created VAWG, DA and SV Oversight Board will monitor the implementation of the strategy, ensuring that the accompanying action plan objectives are aligned with strategic goals and adjusting approaches as needed. Regular reviews and feedback from stakeholders will help maintain the effectiveness and responsiveness of the strategy.

Section 1. Understanding Violence Against Women and Girls (VAWG), Domestic Abuse (DA) and Sexual Violence (SV)

Within the term VAWG, DA and SV a range of forms of violence are recognised. These include gender-based violence (GBV); intimate partner violence (IPV); domestic violence and abuse (DVA) sexual violence and abuse (SVA); coercive control; forced marriage; child marriage; so called honour-based abuse (HBA); female genital mutilation (FGM); human trafficking; sexual harassment; cyber harassment, and adolescent dating violence (ADV). Many of these terms are used as umbrella terms and are not mutually exclusive.

In defining VAWG, we at Brighton & Hove City Council use the United Nations' (UN) globally recognised definition:

“ Any act of gender-based violence that results in, or is likely to result in, physical, sexual or psychological harm or suffering to women, including threats of such acts, coercion or arbitrary deprivation of liberty, whether occurring in public or in private life. ”

This definition underscores the many forms of abuse and their contexts, emphasising that VAWG, DA and SV encompasses acts of violence within the home and across public spaces. Recognising VAWG, DA and SV as a multifaceted issue allows us to address it more effectively within Brighton & Hove, ensuring no form of harm is overlooked, and highlighting the city's commitment to reducing such violence.

Intersectionality

This strategy recognises that VAWG disproportionately impacts women and girls, it also acknowledges the intersecting factors of race, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity and immigration status which can heighten vulnerability. Brighton & Hove City Council is committed to ensuring that all services are inclusive, addressing the specific needs of individuals with intersecting identities and challenges.

Additionally, while within this strategy we understand that VAWG, DA, and SV disproportionately impacts women and girls, it also acknowledges that boys and men, both as children and adults, are also affected by violence and abuse.

Equal access to rights and entitlements:

Experiences of violence and abuse and access to support, safety and justice, will be different for different groups of women and individuals. Their experiences will differ according to the factors which define their participation in society including background, work and access to resource among others. Whilst all women are affected by patriarchy, inequality and discrimination, some women will be affected disproportionately due to their race, ethnicity, sexuality, gender identity, disability, age, class, immigration status, caste, nationality, linguistic minority, and faith.

An example of the need to understand how experiences differ is the work that the Harmful sexual behaviour group, a subgroup of the Children's Safeguarding Board, undertook which included consideration of the adultification and hyper-sexualisation of young black girls in schools. Adultification leads to unfair treatment and harsher disciplinary actions, while hyper-sexualisation results in stigmatisation and victim-blaming.

Our approach

The Council is committed to tackling and preventing VAWG, DA and SV, and will continue to work with partners to improve both its own response to VAWG, DA and SV, and with its partners to improve the local coordinated response to VAWG, DA and SV.

Strategic Aims

Our primary aim is to support the reduction of VAWG, DA and SV incidents by 50% within the next decade, a target that aligns with the national agenda. We recognise that addressing VAWG, DA and SV is essential for achieving equality, justice, and a safe environment for everyone in Brighton & Hove.

Our strategy is built around four key strategic aims that guide our approach to addressing VAWG, DA and SV

- 1. Strengthening the coordinated community response to all forms of VAWG, DA and SV irrespective of whether the incident occurs in private or public space, we will join up council and partner services and address gaps in provision.
- 2. Prioritising prevention to end VAWG, DA and SV through a collaborative approach to awareness raising, data and information sharing, education and communication campaigns.
- 3. Supporting survivors to ensure anyone affected by VAWG, DA and SV has access to high quality trauma-informed support. Working across public, private and third sector partners, with specialist and community providers, we will identify and support victims at an earlier stage.
- 4. Building an accountable community and changing perpetrator behaviour by shifting the focus away from the victim's behaviour to the perpetrator's, strengthening the criminal justice response and supporting behaviour change.

Section 2. A Shared Responsibility

Why this is important

This strategy is designed to address the deeply distressing and pervasive crimes encompassed by VAWG, DA and SV. In line with the National Statement of Expectations for VAWG services (2022)¹, our strategy aims to provide a collaborative, multi-agency approach to offer accessible support for victims and survivors, whilst holding perpetrators to account.

VAWG, DA and SV affects individuals of all genders, ages, and backgrounds, though it disproportionately impacts women and girls. Our approach acknowledges that while each crime type may differ in nature and context, a coordinated response involving the council, local partners, and community stakeholders is essential to support victims, raise awareness, and improve life outcomes. This strategy aligns with national priorities while tailoring our response to meet the unique needs of Brighton & Hove.

Partnership and Community Approach

A partnership-led approach is central to our VAWG, DA and SV strategy. This approach reflects our understanding that preventing and tackling violence and supporting those affected, requires a collaborative effort across our community. Brighton & Hove City Council works closely with local organisations, networks, and residents to build a robust and coordinated response to VAWG.

To support this approach, we are establishing the new VAWG, DA and SV Oversight Board. The purpose of this board is to provide collaborative oversight, ensuring the effective progression and delivery of the VAWG, DA and SV strategy and action plan. The Oversight Board will also align the scrutiny of performance with our strategic aims, ensuring that all actions are effectively monitored and evaluated.

MARAC (Multi Agency Risk Assessment Conference)

The Multi-Agency Risk Assessment Conference (MARAC) is a cornerstone of Brighton & Hove’s partnership-led approach to tackling VAWG.

MARAC brings together key agencies, including the police, health services, housing, social care, and specialist VAWG, DA and SV services, to coordinate responses for individuals at the highest risk of domestic abuse. By sharing information and expertise, MARAC ensures a comprehensive and effective safety plan is developed for each case, reducing the risk of harm and enabling victims and their families to access the support they need.

MARAC exemplifies best practice in partnership working, with its collaborative approach serving as a national model for addressing domestic abuse. In Brighton & Hove, MARAC operates on a weekly basis to provide timely interventions for high-risk cases, directly contributing to the prevention of serious harm and saving lives. The conference demonstrates how a united response from multiple agencies can significantly reduce risks, strengthen community safety, and deliver tangible outcomes for victim-survivors.

The council’s active role in MARAC highlights its commitment to fostering strong partnerships and prioritising the safety of those most vulnerable to VAWG, DA and SV. By continually reviewing MARAC processes and incorporating feedback from stakeholders, Brighton & Hove ensures that the initiative remains effective, innovative, and responsive to emerging challenges.

The Coordinated Community Response (CCR) Model

Brighton & Hove City Council is committed to an integrated, multi-agency Coordinated Community Response (CCR). This model unites services to ensure local systems keep survivors safe, hold abusers accountable, and prevent VAWG, DA and SV.

No single agency is solely responsible for tackling and preventing VAWG, DA and SV, however, by collaborating with various agencies and communities, we can provide safe and effective responses to reduce harm.

VAWG, DA and SV is a complex social issue that affects individuals, communities, and services across our society, including health, housing, social care, and the Criminal Justice System. Agencies and organisations often address different aspects of the issue or approach the same problem from various angles.

These agencies also have their own, sometimes conflicting, processes, responsibilities, and measures of success. The CCR enables a holistic response to individuals, shifting the responsibility for safety from survivors to the community and services designed to support them. Every agency involved in dealing with survivors, their children, and/or perpetrators must work effectively within their own organization and in collaboration with other agencies to ensure the safety of survivors and their children and to hold perpetrators accountable.

Good Practice Example

The following case study highlights a practical example of how Brighton & Hove City Council is implementing the CCR model.

Case Study 1: Strengthening Partnerships through quarterly VAWG, DA and SV Service Meetings and VAWG, DA and SV Network Events

Initiated following multi-agency feedback, regular in-person meetings among VAWG, DA and SV services in Brighton & Hove – both commissioned and non-commissioned – reflect the CCR model's emphasis on collaborative partnership. These quarterly meetings enable VAWG, DA and SV professionals across Brighton & Hove to share insights, address service gaps, and align on common challenges.

The VAWG Network provides a platform for professionals to learn more about different forms of VAWG often through an intersectional lens to upskill practitioners.

Case Study 2:

Enhancing Support for Domestic Abuse Survivors in Housing Services

Brighton & Hove City Council has prioritised the voices of victim-survivors and stakeholders in shaping its response to the Domestic Abuse Act 2021, demonstrating a commitment to delivering services that are inclusive, effective, and survivor-centred.

Developing a Strategic Response

The Council contributed to the Pan Sussex Domestic Abuse Support in Safe Accommodation Strategy 2021–2024, which provided key recommendations to improve services for survivors. These recommendations guided the commissioning of a range of new services funded through the New Burdens allocation. (See Appendix 1)

Additionally, the Council commissioned Stonewater to produce the Safehaven by the Sea report, which involved extensive consultation with victim-survivors, stakeholders, and a review of national developments in domestic abuse and housing. Published in the summer of 2024, the report has actionable recommendations that have directly informed service improvements. (See Appendix 1)

Improving Housing Pathways for Domestic Abuse Survivors

In line with the findings and the One Council Approach, Brighton & Hove City Council's Housing Management Services, in collaboration with the internal VAWG, DA and SV team, has undertaken a comprehensive review of its policies and procedures to align with the requirements of the Domestic Abuse Act.

A working group has been established to improve housing pathways for domestic abuse survivors. This group, led by the Homelessness and Housing Options teams, has introduced the role of Refuge Champions, staff members dedicated to ensuring smoother transitions from refuges to independent housing. Refuge Champions work closely with refuge staff, facilitating clear and accessible pathways for survivors ready to leave Brighton & Hove's refuges.

This initiative exemplifies the Council's commitment to improving coordination across services and enhancing survivors' experiences as they move toward independence. By prioritising collaborative approaches, the Council is making housing services more accessible and responsive to survivors needs.

Embedding Intersectional Support and Training

To further strengthen support, staff from RISE and Switchboard are now co-located with the Homelessness and Housing Options team, providing integrated and immediate expertise for those accessing services. Furthermore, the Council has partnered with Stonewater, RISE, Switchboard, and Cranstoun to deliver extensive training to housing staff. This training focuses on the intersectional nature of domestic abuse, equipping staff with skills and knowledge needed to support survivors from diverse backgrounds effectively.

By embedding these changes, Brighton & Hove City Council demonstrates its dedication to enhancing the safety and well-being of domestic abuse survivors and ensuring their journey to secure and independent housing is as supportive and seamless as possible.

Section 3.

What causes VAWG, DA and SV?

VAWG, DA and SV can be looked at through an 'ecological framework' which is an evidence-based approach on the complex interplay of factors that contribute to VAWG.² This model shows how individual, relationship, community, and societal factors interact to influence the risk and experience of violence. By understanding these interconnected levels, we can take comprehensive actions at each level to support and reinforce efforts to prevent violence.

1. At the Individual Level

Personal history and biological factors influence how individuals behave and increase their likelihood of becoming a victim or a perpetrator of violence. Among these factors are being a victim of child maltreatment, psychological or personality disorders, alcohol and/or substance abuse and a history of behaving aggressively or having experienced abuse.

2. Personal Relationships

Such as family, friends, intimate partners and peers may influence the risks of becoming a victim or perpetrator of violence. For example, having violent friends may influence whether a young person engages in or becomes a victim of violence.

3. Community

Community contexts in which social relationships occur, such as schools, neighbourhoods and workplaces, also influence violence. Risk factors here may include the level of unemployment, population density, mobility and the existence of a local drug or gun trade.

4. Societal

Societal factors influence whether violence is encouraged or inhibited. These include economic and social policies that maintain socioeconomic inequalities between people, the availability of weapons, and social and cultural norms such as those around male dominance over women, parental dominance over children and cultural norms that endorse violence as an acceptable method to resolve conflicts.

² The Ecological Framework

The Many Forms of Violence Against Women & Girls, Domestic Abuse and Sexual Violence

VAWG, DA and SV covers a range of unacceptable and deeply distressing crimes, including gender-based violence (GBV); intimate partner violence (IPV); domestic violence and abuse (DVA) sexual violence and abuse (SVA); coercive control; forced marriage; child marriage; so called honour-based abuse (HBA); female genital mutilation (FGM); human trafficking; sexual harassment; cyber harassment, and adolescent dating violence (ADV). Many of these terms are used as umbrella terms and are not mutually exclusive.

In Brighton & Hove, we recognise that VAWG, DA and SV is not limited to one type of violence or experience. The table below defines some of the most prevalent forms of VAWG, DA and SV. However, this is not an exhaustive list, as VAWG, DA and SV manifests in diverse and complex ways. Each form may differ in nature, setting, and impact, affecting individuals and communities uniquely.

Term	Legislation	Definition
Domestic Abuse (Including Coercive Control)	Domestic Abuse Act 2021	Domestic abuse refers to incidents or a pattern of incidents of controlling, coercive, threatening, degrading, and violent behaviour, including sexual violence, committed by a partner, ex-partner, or family member, regardless of gender or sexuality. Abuse can be physical, emotional, economic, psychological, and/or sexual. The Domestic Abuse Act 2021 also recognises children as victims if they see, hear, or are otherwise affected by the abuse.
Rape	Sexual Offences Act 2003	Rape is defined as non-consensual penetration or forced penetration of the vagina, anus, or mouth with a penis. Consent must be given freely, and there must be the capacity to make that choice.
Sexual Violence	Sexual Offences Act 2003	Sexual violence includes acts committed without the victim's consent, encompassing both physical force and psychological pressure. This includes sexual assault by penetration - where an object is inserted into the mouth, anus or vagina by another person.
Female Genital Mutilation (FGM)	Female Genital Mutilation Act 2003	Female Genital Mutilation (FGM) comprises all procedures involving the partial or total removal of the external female genitalia or any other injury to the female genital organs for non-medical reasons.

Term	Legislation	Definition
So-Called "Honour"-Based Abuse	Crown Prosecution Service definition	An incident or crime involving violence, threats of violence, intimidation coercion or abuse (including psychological, physical, sexual, financial or emotional abuse) which has or may have been committed to protect or defend the honour of an individual, family and/ or community for alleged or perceived breaches of the family and/or community's code of behaviour
Sexual Harassment	Equality Act 2010	Sexual harassment is unwanted behaviour of a sexual nature that violates a person's dignity, or creates an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating, or offensive environment.
Stalking	Protection from Harassment Act 1997	Stalking involves a pattern of persistent and unwanted behaviour or attention that causes the victim to feel scared, harassed, or anxious.
Modern Slavery	Modern Slavery Act 2015	Modern slavery is a term that encompasses human trafficking, forced labour, and servitude. It involves the exploitation of a person through force, coercion, or deception, for another's gain.
Economic Abuse	Domestic Abuse Act 2021	Economic abuse involves controlling a person's ability to acquire, use, and maintain economic resources, effectively limiting their independence. It may include withholding money, preventing access to employment, or controlling access to essentials.
Digital or Digitally Enabled Abuse	Domestic Abuse Act 2021 (in cases of coercive control) and the Online Safety Act 2024	Abuse that occurs or is facilitated through digital platforms harassment, revenge porn, and coercive control through monitoring and surveillance of digital devices.
Forced Prostitution and Human Trafficking	Modern Slavery Act 2015 and Sexual Offences Act 2003 .	Forced prostitution involves coercing someone into commercial sex acts against their will. Human trafficking is the recruitment, transport, or harbouring of individuals for exploitation.

The strategy acknowledges the right of people to work as sex workers by choice, however, this strategy takes a harm reduction approach to all forms of VAWG/DA/SV and as such we will work to reduce the harm caused by VAWG/DA/SV. We aim to enable people involved in prostitution/sex work to access support services to mitigate the harm where they have been affected by any of the serious violent crimes types that are known as VAWG.

VAWG, DA and SV in Public Spaces

Creating safe public spaces is a critical component of the partnership's strategy to address VAWG, DA and SV. Research consistently shows that women and girls disproportionately face harassment and violence in public places, limiting their freedom and sense of safety.

The Safer Streets Programme has been a key initiative in addressing these concerns, focusing on practical interventions such as street lighting, installation of CCTV, and enhanced police patrols in identified high-risk areas. These measures, alongside public awareness campaigns, are designed to deter perpetrators and create environments where women and girls feel empowered and protected.

However, safety in public spaces is not only about physical infrastructure. The strategy also emphasises the importance of community-based approaches, including bystander intervention training, and partnerships with local businesses and transport providers to ensure a collective response to VAWG, DA and SV. Insights from local surveys and consultations have informed targeted actions, and resources being directed to areas where women report feeling unsafe.

Through collaboration with national funding programs, such as Safer Streets, and local organisations, we aim to create a city where every resident can navigate public spaces without fear. This commitment is underpinned by the understanding that tackling VAWG, DA and SV requires addressing not just the symptoms of violence but the cultural and societal norms that enable it, ensuring Brighton & Hove remains inclusive and secure for all.

Public Safety Consultation on VAWG conducted in 2022:

The survey revealed that the most prevalent form of VAWG experienced was sexual harassment. A significant 45% of respondents reported having experienced sexual harassment, while 21% had witnessed someone else being sexually harassed.

When it comes to perceptions of safety in the city, there is a stark contrast between day and night. While 65% of respondents felt safe during the day, a concerning 77% felt unsafe at night.

General concerns about safety when out in public were also highlighted, with 44% of respondents stating they were worried and 21% being very worried while walking.

The responses regarding safety on public transport were mixed. Overall, 59% of respondents felt safe on the bus, but 39% were worried about safety when using the train, and 33% were not concerned.

Licensed premises and nightclubs were identified as risk areas by respondents. Specifically, 36% felt that licensed premises posed a risk, and a higher 57% felt that nightclubs were risky.

Section 4. Data

Demographic Data:

Due to recent reporting changes from Sussex Police, current demographic data (2023-2024) regarding victims or perpetrators is unavailable for inclusion in this report. We anticipate this data will be accessible in the near future.

However, it should be noted that VAWG can be experienced by anyone. We understand that a survivor’s experience often intersects with other experiences linked to protected characteristics.

This can introduce additional risks and make it harder for people to seek support. While men and boys also suffer from many of these forms of abuse, they disproportionately affect women and more so women with intersecting characteristics.

National statistics highlight that BME women suffer domestic abuse 1.5 times longer than their white counterparts (Safelives, 2020). Data also indicates that BME people are less likely to report VAWG.

Brighton & Hove City Council has commissioned a BME Domestic Abuse Capacity Building Service to work at the grassroots level to further improve understanding of and access to support for BME survivors. Our strategic approach will fully recognise intersectionality. This includes the experiences of the city’s LGBTQ+ community, which report high levels of VAWG.

The council will continue to work closely with partners to ensure a continued focus on intersectionality.

Economic Chess

Poem by an anonymous Survivor of Economic Abuse by Experience

The chess has begun
With me he's not done
So what is his next move now?
He'd rendered me homeless
And cut off my friends
I never thought ever I would see them again
Yet I fought and I won and thought he was all done
But the chess game has once again once more begun
In court soon to be
For financial remedy
As he's taking the asset my house from right under me
I kept it for our son when gone and I am dead
But he wants it to use this to play with my head
So I refuse to wear boots that are made out of lead
And have severed the tie that could render me dead
It's only a house and my sons inheritance
And when he is older in fury I reckon he'll dance
Yet right now as he dances his narcissistic dance
I smile at him taking his perceived "fabulous chance".
So Happy New Year to him and those just like old me
I'm slowly cutting ties to keep myself free
And what he does not realise is he's helping me see
This chess players playing a game with not me – only he!

Section 5. Development Process

The development of the strategic aims and this strategy was informed by a review of key documents, including national guidance to support victims and survivors of VAWG, DA and SV, existing council strategies and engagement events between November 2023 and Jan 2024 and more:

1. Public Consultation:

The council carried out a public consultation on the initial draft strategic aims. The feedback demonstrated strong support for our four key priorities.

- A Strengthened Coordinated Community Response: 75% of respondents strongly agreed, and 19% agreed.
- Prioritising Prevention: 79% strongly agreed, and 14% agreed.
- Support for Survivors: 88% strongly agreed, and 7% agreed.
- Building an Accountable Community and Changing Perpetrator Behaviour: 79% strongly agreed, and 13% agreed.

The consultation findings highlighted a number of themes for inclusion in future workplans, including:

- A focus on prevention
- The role of education and training
- Addressing perpetrator behaviour both by strengthening criminal justice response and behaviour change programmes
- Community-based services for children and young people, including working with them to raise awareness and educate them about VAWG, DA and SV
- Enshrining intersectionality in the response to VAWG, DA and SV, to ensure support for all survivors across all risk levels, including those with protected characteristics

- Improving safety in public spaces and promotion of Safety Apps
- Support for survivors who have no recourse to public funds/refugee status

2. Four Sector Specific Events:

Alongside the public consultation, we also organised workshops with local stakeholders and community members to discuss the four strategic priorities in detail, ensuring diverse perspectives were considered and securing active partner involvement.

- VAWG strategy consultation – A stronger coordinated community response (Thursday, December 7, 2023)
- VAWG strategy consultation- Prioritising Prevention (Tuesday, December 12, 2023)
- VAWG strategy consultation- Support for Survivors (Friday, December 15, 2023)
- VAWG strategy consultation- Accountable community and perpetrator behaviour (Wednesday, December 6, 2023)

3. Evidence-Based Analysis:

We also utilised a range of data sources to inform our strategy, including:

- a. Safe Accommodation Needs Assessment (2021): Conducted across Sussex to understand the needs of victims requiring safe accommodation.
- b. Quarterly Performance Monitoring: Ongoing assessment of the effectiveness of commissioned services and Multi-Agency Risk Assessment Conferences (MARACs).
- c. Public Survey on Safety in Brighton & Hove (2022): Gathered public perceptions of safety across the city.
- d. Community Safety Partnership Strategic Assessment Workshop (2022): Shaped key strategic priorities.
- e. Housing Consultations (Feb-Mar 2023): Three workshop consultations with internal housing services officers.
- f. Reimagine Brighton Event (Jan 2024): Workshop sessions that contributed to the strategy's development and sense checked the strategic aims.
- g. BHCC Leadership VAWG, DA and SV Summit (Sep 2024): Brought together internal council leaders to council-wide align and strengthen strategy delivery.

4. Alignment with Internal Council Strategic Priorities:

We also ensured that this strategy is aligned with internal core plans and strategies, taking a whole-council approach to reducing VAWG, DA and SV. The intersecting documents include:

- Brighton & Hove Council Plan 2023-2027³
- Community Safety and Crime Reduction Strategy 2023-2026⁴
- Anti-Racism Strategy 2023-2028⁵
- Housing Strategy 2024-2029⁶

5. Regional Collaboration:

Brighton & Hove City Council is dedicated to working alongside East and West Sussex County Councils to deliver a cohesive regional response. This includes our contribution to the Pan Sussex Domestic Abuse Support in Safe Accommodation Strategy (2021-2024), which enhances our regional efforts through collaboration.

6. Legislative Framework:

The strategy is also underpinned by a robust legal framework. We regularly review and adapt to national legislation to ensure our practices remain effective and compliant. Key laws shaping our approach include:

- Female Genital Mutilation Act (2003): Criminalises the act of FGM, including aiding or taking a child abroad for the procedure.
- Sexual Offences Act (2003): Sets out a framework for addressing sexual offences, focusing on consent and protection.
- Forced Marriage Act (2007): Enables courts to issue Forced Marriage Protection Orders.
- Anti-Social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act (2014): Provides measures to combat forced marriage and protect victims.
- Coercive and Controlling Behaviour (2015): Recognises non-physical abuse as a serious criminal offence.
- Modern Slavery Act (2015): Establishes stringent penalties for traffickers and support mechanisms for victims.
- Stalking Protection Act 2019: Introduces protective measures for victims of stalking.
- Domestic Abuse Act 2021: Expands protections, recognising children as victims when they witness abuse.
- Non-Fatal Strangulation (2021): Creates a specific offence under the Domestic Abuse Act, with severe penalties.
- Marriage and Civil Partnership (Minimum Age) Act 2022: Raises the minimum legal age for marriage to 18.
- Online Safety Act 2023: Requires social media platforms to prevent harmful content, including digital abuse.
- Victims and Prisoners Bill 2023: Enhances rights and support for victims of crime. Protection against various forms of discrimination, including gender-based violence.

7. Lessons from Safeguarding Reviews:

Lessons learned from safeguarding children reviews nationally often highlight the presence of VAWG, DA and SV-related crimes. In 2021, the Brighton & Hove Adult Safeguarding Board (SAB) commissioned a thematic review into the deaths of three women with multiple compound needs. These women experienced various forms of VAWG, DA and SV including homelessness, substance misuse, offending, and physical and mental health issues. All were repeat cases at the Multi-Agency Risk Assessment Conference (MARAC) across Sussex. The review's recommendations are being implemented, including changes to the local MARAC operating protocol to improve joint working.

8. Domestic Abuse Related Death Reviews:

Since 2011, Community Safety Partnerships have been statutorily required to conduct Domestic Homicide Reviews (DHRs) to examine the circumstances and partnership responses before and after domestic abuse murders. These reviews highlight how partnerships respond to domestic abuse and enable local partnerships to learn lessons to improve future practice. The council has completed six reviews since 2011, with another fatality review commissioned in 2024. A government consultation on the DHR process is underway, considering firmer guidance for DHRs in cases of death by suicide with a significant history of domestic abuse. A 2021 national audit of 124 DHRs identified 10 key themes, including the need for greater agency contact with victims and recognition of perpetrators' control over victims' agency interactions.

9. Review of 'A Patchwork of Provision – How to Meet the Needs of Victims and Survivors Across England and Wales:

A comprehensive analysis of this report allowed us to align our local priorities with its recommendations. By systematically examining the report's findings, we identified critical areas for improvement, such as the need for increased and sustained funding, enhanced awareness and outreach, and better coordination among agencies. This alignment ensures our strategic aims are data-driven, inclusive, and focused on delivering holistic and equitable support to all victims and survivors of domestic abuse.

Section 6.

Strategy into Operation

The VAWG, DA and SV Strategy will move from planning to operation through a Coordinated Community Response, involving all partners across statutory services, voluntary sectors, and community stakeholders to play a part in ending VAWG, DA and SV across Brighton & Hove. - Feedback Loops: Integration with groups such as the Domestic Abuse Related Death Reviews (DARDR) Oversight Panel and Risk and Review Groups (incorporating MARAC, MATAAC, and court-related oversight) to maintain accountability and respond to risk.

Appendix 1.

The recommendations for the partnership from the “Safehaven by the Sea Report: a report on housing challenges and solutions for domestic abuse survivors in Brighton & Hove”

A number of recommendations were made based on feedback from survivors, professionals and models that are working well nationally, and are presented below under the agency which would be best placed to address them.

Brighton & Hove City Council VAWG Unit

It is acknowledged that the recommendations below align with the six strategic priorities captured within the Pan-Sussex Strategy for Domestic Abuse Accommodation and Support 2021-2024, and as such encourage regional joint working/resourcing where appropriate.

- Form a domestic abuse and housing providers working group to develop co-ordinated responses across the range of providers.
- Continue commissioning of a dedicated refuge for female identifying survivors, consideration of increasing licence agreement period given the multiple complex needs of survivors.
- Consider dedicated LGBTQ+ safe accommodation in the needs assessment linked to pan-Sussex priorities in the refresh of the Pan-Sussex Domestic Abuse and Safe Accommodation Strategy.
- Consider domestic abuse support for those aged 55+ who have experienced abuse, ensuring this is linked to pan-Sussex priorities in the refresh of the Pan-Sussex Domestic Abuse and Safe Accommodation Strategy.
- Raise awareness of the No Recourse Fund and the Destitution Domestic Violence Concessions (DDVC) for those with an insecure immigration status to support with costs of safe accommodation.
- Ensure survivors in emergency accommodation are provided with a comprehensive support package which includes information on options and guidance around next steps – e.g. civil orders, flexible funds, refuges etc. This resource should be developed by the council’s VAWG Unit, updated regularly, and communicated to welfare officers and specialist services.
- Review the impact of the Enhanced DA Housing Pathway funded by the New Burdens Allocation.
- Continue to support joint working practices between the housing first model for rough sleepers and domestic abuse specialist agencies to ensure the right support is received at the right time.
- Develop training that is accessible to staff working in supported housing settings and the rented sector (e.g. landlords) to improve the response to disclosures and support with domestic abuse informed practice, including where intersecting needs are present.

- Consider creating a Children’s Advocacy Worker role to provide short term support to children who have been subjected to domestic abuse and are residing in safe accommodation, ensuring that their educational, social and wellbeing needs are being met.
- Consider creating a Domestic Abuse Safety Worker role who will support survivors in obtaining non-molestation orders and act as a McKenzie friend for those who are unable to obtain legal representation.
- Consider and explore a small-scale pilot project for housing perpetrators.

Brighton & Hove City Council – Housing Department

- Consider a review of risk assessments in ensuring suitability of temporary accommodation for survivors in partnership with specialist domestic abuse organisation.
- Raise awareness of the work of the Private Rented Team amongst local agencies, following feedback that pathways to private renting are unclear.
- Consult upon and share reviewed allocation policy amongst stakeholders.
- Consider a commitment to a service level agreement with Stonewater’s refuge for the Temporary Accommodation Scheme.
- Consider gaining DAHA Accreditation, to ensure safe and effective responses to domestic abuse.
- Review efficacy and adherence of Emergency Accommodation Charter and consider the introduction of a Temporary Accommodation Charter to improve the quality of accommodation and accountability of landlords – with a domestic abuse lens.
- Consider the introduction of a Domestic Abuse Housing Officer role with responsibilities to include management of all domestic abuse cases including refuge cases and applications of civil orders for those wishing to remain in their homes.

- Introduce feedback model for domestic abuse survivors who are accessing the council’s housing pathway to ensure that service improvement is ongoing.

Voluntary sector

- Continue horizon scanning for funding opportunities and consider Shared Lives Plus and Women in Safe Homes funding for survivors of domestic abuse. Consider joint/ consortia funding bids.

Registered housing providers in Brighton and Hove

- Introduce reciprocal arrangements amongst registered providers across Sussex for households fleeing domestic abuse, with a co-ordination role resourced by registered providers or the council.
- Capture data around domestic abuse to allow understanding around scale of the issue.
- Map registered and supported housing providers within Brighton and Hove and develop coalitions to share approaches to identifying and responding to domestic abuse.
- Introduce a domestic abuse code of practice which reflects the newly introduced housing consumer standards, with a requirement to hold a domestic abuse specific policy, provide regular colleague training, seek DAHA membership/accreditation, and attend the South East DAHA Regional Group.
- Work with Stonewater to replicate the Southdown refuge move on pathway where viable.
